Agreement for Professional Services

This Agreement for Professional Services is made and entered into between Dr. Kenneth A. Ray of RJS Justice Services ("Dr. Ray") and the Monroe County Board of Commissioners ("Commissioners"). Dr. Ray and the Commissioners mutually agree as follows:

The terms of the agreement enlist Dr. Ray to serve as a consultant to the Commissioners, who are engaging Dr. Ray to provide counsel and advice to the Commissioners as they engage in a comprehensive review of the Monroe County Criminal Justice System ("Review Project"). The comprehensive nature of the Review Project is such that Dr. Ray will also meet with and provide advice and consultation to other County constituents including, but not limited to, the Sheriff, the Prosecutor, the Board of Judges, and the Council (and their respective staff members).

RECITALS

WHEREAS, the Commissioners and the Monroe County Sheriff ("Sheriff") were named defendants in a class action lawsuit filed on February 13, 2008, under cause number 1:08-CV-174-RLY-JMS (now 1:08-CV-00174-RLY-MJD), which alleged overcrowding and inhumane conditions in the Monroe County Correctional Center ("MCCC"); and

WHEREAS, Plaintiffs in the above-named lawsuit are represented by Ken Falk of the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU) of Indiana; and

WHEREAS, the parties entered into a Private Settlement Agreement ("PSA") on August 14, 2009, which has been extended numerous times and remains in place today, with the most-recent extension to January 14, 2019; and

WHEREAS, Ken Falk requested, in order to extend the PSA, that Monroe County engage in a comprehensive review of its criminal justice system, with the goal of determining if changes could be made by Monroe County which would consistently reduce the number of persons in the MCCC or to determine, in the alternative, if more space was needed to house those incarcerated in the MCCC; and

WHEREAS, the Commissioners do not support, simply, adding additional incarceration space in Monroe County. Instead, the Commissioners desire to work collaboratively with the other County constituents listed above to explore any and all alternatives to incarceration, to reduce taxpayer expense by promoting rehabilitation and treatment, and to promote restorative justice; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Ray has knowledge and experience which will benefit this Review Project, particularly related to collection and analysis of data and determining options and proposals for delivering meaningful public safety and justice services to Monroe County; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Ray has worked with three other Indiana counties on jail-related issues, including Vigo, Lake and Porter Counties; and

WHEREAS, the Commissioners and Dr. Ray desire to work together, with the constituents listed above, and with any other consultants hired by the Commissioners to create a criminal justice system model for Monroe County which will be cost effective, progressive and forward-thinking in both fiscal and human terms and which will, ideally, end the necessity of litigation as was filed by the ACLU against the Commissioners and Sheriff in 2008 and reduce the population in the MCCC.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the following, the parties hereto mutually covenant and agree as follows:

SECTION I. SCOPE OF REVIEW PROJECT AND SERVICES

For the Review Project, Dr. Ray shall provide the services and deliverables in accordance with the Proposal prepared by Dr. Ray, which is attached hereto and incorporated here in as "Exhibit A". Specifically, the parties are engaging in Phase I, which is the Criminal Justice and Incarceration Assessment. The parties are not engaging in Phases II or III at this time. Further, the parties agree that all recommendations made by Dr. Ray shall be coordinated with any other consultants hired by the Commissioners for this Review Project and that any and all reports will be coordinated and integrated between Dr. Ray and the other consultants so that the recommendations made are legally and practically able to be implemented by Monroe County.

Dr. Ray shall not commence any additional work or change the scope of work without consultation with and until authorized in writing by the Commissioners to make such change. The scope of work may only be amended, supplemented or modified by a written document executed by the Dr. Ray and Commissioners in the same manner as this Agreement.

SECTION II. COMPENSATION

Dr. Ray agrees to perform all that is required and necessary to accomplish this Review Project, which is Phase I: Criminal Justice and Incarceration Assessment as described in this Agreement, for an amount paid by the Commissioners not to exceed One Hundred Twenty Thousand Dollars and zero cents ($120,000.00), which includes professional fees and travel expenses for three (3) to four (4) on-site visits by team members at three (3) days per visit and all off-site research and work. While the parties are not engaging in Phases II or III at this point, Dr. Ray agrees to honor the prices for Phases II and III contained in the Proposal, up to December 31, 2019, in the event the Commissioners subsequently decide to engage in Phases II or III. Dr. Ray acknowledges that no claim for additional compensation may be made by implication, oral agreements, action, inaction, or course of conduct. Any changes in compensation must be approved, in writing, by the Commissioners. All sums paid to Dr. Ray are contingent upon and subject to appropriation of the necessary funds by the Monroe County Council, and the Commissioners shall not be in breach of this Agreement if the Council fails to appropriate the necessary funds.

Beginning May 31, 2019 and on the last day of each month thereafter until January 31st, 2020, Dr. Ray shall submit monthly invoices to the Commissioners. Each of the nine (9) invoices shall be for Thirteen Thousand Three Hundred Thirty Three Dollars and thirty three cents ($13,333.33) and shall be for work performed prior to the invoice being submitted, as the Commissioners may not pay for work performed in advance. The Commissioners shall pay submitted invoices within forty five (45) days of receipt and in conformance with all federal, state and local laws and Monroe County's policies and procedures.

In order to receive payment, Dr. Ray shall perform all services under this Agreement to the reasonable satisfaction of the Commissioners and in accordance with all applicable federal, state, and local laws and all ordinances, rules, and regulations. The Commissioners shall not pay for work not performed or work that is inconsistent with this Agreement or any of its Exhibits.

SECTION III. TERM

The term of this Agreement shall be from the date of the last signature affixed to the Agreement and until the completion date of the Review Project, which shall be on or before January 14, 2020.

SECTION IV. NOTICE TO PROCEED AND SCHEDULE

Dr. Ray shall begin the work to be performed under this Agreement upon receipt of a fully-executed copy of this Agreement and notice by the Commissioners that the necessary funds have been appropriated. The Term of this Agreement as stated in Section III, shall not be extended without prior, written approval by the parties.

SECTION VI. INDEMNITY

The parties agree to indemnify and hold harmless the other party, their officials, and employees from all claims, costs or suits of whatever nature, including attorneys' fees, related to performance of the Review Project, except such claims, costs or suits arising out of the negligence of the party, their officials or its employees.

SECTION VIII. LIABILITY INSURANCE AND BONDS

Failure to provide this certificate may be regarded by the Commissioners as a material breach of this Agreement, and may result in its cancellation without further cause. It shall be in the Commissioners' sole discretion whether there is a material breach under this paragraph and whether the breach should result in cancellation of this Agreement.

SECTION IX. NON-DISCRIMINATION

In the performance of work under this Agreement, it is agreed that Dr. Ray or any person acting on his behalf shall not, in any manner, discriminate against or intimidate any person because or by reason of his race, religion, color, sex, national origin, ancestry, sexual orientation, gender identity, disability, housing status, or status as a veteran.

In the event that Dr. Ray discriminates as stated herein, it is agreed that a penalty equal to the sum of Five Hundred Dollars and zero cents ($500.00) per person, per day of discrimination, may be deducted from the amount of compensation due under this Agreement. Should a second, or subsequent violation occur, said second or subsequent occurrence may be considered a material breach and this Agreement may be terminated and all monies due, or to become due hereunder, may be forfeited.

Monroe County, Indiana Criminal Justice and Jail Assessment and Action Plan Proposal

Monroe County, Indiana seeks to retain a qualified provider with strong knowledge of all elements of the criminal justice system and extensive experience in the areas of criminal justice system and correctional planning, evidence-based best practices relevant to collaborative and solution-focused planning and plan implementation. The RJS team possess distinguished and considerable experience providing such services and effective solutions in and for jurisdictions involved in civil rights consent agreements and inmate class-action litigation.

Our General Understanding of the Problem

The Monroe County Correctional Facility (Jail) is currently under a private settlement agreement with the ACLU of Indiana regarding jail overcrowding. The ACLU has agreed to extend the agreement for another year to afford Monroe County officials fully evaluate the jail and criminal justice system and identify relevant options and opportunities for sustainable reduction of the jail population that will satisfy the objectives of the agreement. Additionally, Monroe County officials are cognizant of their responsibility to ensure the provision of constitutional levels of inmate care and custody and they are committed to meeting this obligation in an expedient, efficient, effective, and sustainable manner.

As it is with any high-functioning and responsible public entity, Monroe County officials also desire to identify contemporary options and opportunities for delivering fair and meaningful public safety and justice services to the community. The processes and activities indicated in this proposal intend to assist Monroe County officials achieve these desired legal and system goals and objectives.

We performed a cursory examination of limited jail population and court activity data to gain more clarity about the current problem. We examined 2015-2018 monthly and 2013-2018 annual jail average daily population data and performed a cursory Naïve Linear Regression analyses to the to the year 2025 for both jail data sets.

Jail ADP data were obtained from the Sheriff's 2018 Annual Report (for figure 1) and the Indiana Jail Analysis Report (for figure 2). A simple linear regression test of both ADP data sets was performed. Both tests project a continuing upward trend in the jail population through 2025, which will likely correlate with increase court criminal case trends. The linear estimate to year 2025 must be considered limited because of the small data sets and it does not account for potential changes in criminal justice system changes that could impact jail population levels.

The jail total capacity is 287 beds with a functional classification capacity of 230 beds (80% of total capacity) Figure 1 below compares ADP to total and functional capacity. ADP continues to exceed functional classification capacity and exceeded total capacity in 2017.

2025	312	287	230	25	82	26.4%

Provisional Key Impressions:

1. The Monroe County Jail has exceeded its Functional Operating Capacity during all months from at least 2013 through 2018.
2. It is likely that the jail classification system strained and/or been unable to ensure adequate and consistent capacity for all inmate classifications.
3. The jail has reached and exceeded its total capacity.

Note about jail forecasting: Valid and reliable projecting of jail population trajectories is part science and part art. Historical data provide relevant markers for understanding how past practices have impacted jail numbers. Forecasts are typically only good for two to four years. We intend to assist Monroe County officials to identify, implement, and evaluate reforms to incarceration and criminal justice practices that can effectively interrupt the current jail population trajectory and ensure sustainable reductions in jail admissions and/or jail lengths of stay to ultimately reduce the jail population.

We also compared 2010 and 2017 AOC court data to further understand possible impacts on the jail census. New felony case filings (Figure 4) increased but new misdemeanor case decreased for a combined decrease in criminal cases. It's interesting that juvenile delinquency and status cases combined decreased, according to INAOC data but CHINS increased significantly. We are also intrigued by the significant increase in new MH cases filed in civil court.

Year	Total Felony Cases	Total Misdemeanor Cases	Total Criminal Cases	% Ttd Felony Case / Total Criminal	% Ttd Misd/Misc Cases / Total Criminal	Juvenile Delinquency & Status Cases	Total CHINS Cases	Juvenile Delinq, Status, CHINS	MH Cases

Total felony cases before the courts (Figure 5) increased about 21% since 2010 while total cases disposed increased about 6.7%, but total cases not disposed increased about 33% (1471 to 1956). Total misdemeanor cases decreased but the number of cases disposed decreased about 12%.

Total criminal cases (Figure 6) increased less than one percent while there was an 8.8 decrease in total cases disposed. Total cases not dispose increased almost 17% (3596 to 4199). Total cases (criminal and civil) decreased a third (46541 to 30786) but there was an approximate 42% decrease in cases disposed. Approximately 72.8 of all cases were disposed in 2010 and 64% in 2017.

% + / -	0.4%	-8.8%	16.8%	-9.1%	-33.8%	-41.8%	-12.5%	-12.1%

The jail population is directly impacted by some of these changes in court activity as well as other issues. There are several options and opportunities available. Here are some ideas:

1. Need to examine the impact of the Mental Health cases. In that, 969.6% or 446 more cases between 2010 and 2017 have impacted the case processing in the felony courts or both the felony and misdemeanor courts. Also, how are these cases managed by the judges, individually or only by Mental Health Court. In addition, what, if any, impact have the specialty courts had on case processing or the workload of the judges.

2. Need to compare judicial assignment system in 2010 to 2017. It is interesting that total criminal cases are up below 1% but the disposition rate is down 8.8%, has the prosecutor changed his/her charging policies?
3. Need to dig into the time standards used to move criminal cases through the system. Are they experiencing issues with forensic evidence being provided by the lab in a timely fashion? What is the turnaround time for PSI to the Court ... has that been increased further slowing the case processing timeline?
4. Emphasize that all cases before the Court are down by 1/3 and relooking at how judicial resources are assigned to the various case types. Dispositions of all cases is down over 40%, which when compared, they appear to have an issue that should have been closely monitored and dealt with sooner. Of course, looking at each year (200-2017) might be very revealing as to when this shifted and ask the questions what was being done about it.
5. We are not a big supporter of weighted caseload because it tends to support a judges full caseload by weight rather than what they are able to accomplish day in and day out over the long haul. It also doesn't give great support to the team approach of case management, in our opinion.
6. In 2010 total criminal represented over 1/2 of the entire caseload, while in 2018 total criminal represented 1/3 --- has there been a shift in judges to handle this type of increase. We opine that this is due to the negative rate of disposition.
7. We unclear about why total cases disposed is a negative 41.8%. It appears in the AOC report that certain jurisdictions may have hearing officers and other non-judge judicial officers mainly in civil and juvenile, while Monroe has none reported. This is worth exploring when we get the opportunity.
8. We have seen other jurisdictions with similar trends. In these projects we learned that organizations can get comfortable in their zone and they can become so busy dealing with increases in daily workloads that the bigger picture overlooked, and it is generally the funding authority that gets their attention.

Assessment and Action Planning Foundational Assumptions

Based on telephone conversations with Monroe County representatives, community members, and review of newspaper articles, it is assumed that Monroe holds the following foundational values regarding the provision of criminal justice services and incarceration:

Sustainable Reform Concepts

Assessing organizations, systems and/or practices for needed reforms involves comprehensive evaluation of strengths and needs. These findings will culminate into written and evidence-based best-practice options and opportunities that are prescriptions for success. However, the best laid efforts and reform plans are destined to fail, or not fully achieve desired outcome, unless reforms are sustainable over time. Time and economic resources are too often wasted unless reforms are determined to be sustainable before they are implemented. Reform sustainability is somewhat akin to accurately predicting the outcome of a horse race. Several salient indicators are combined and assessed; 1) history of achievement, and 2) technical indicators. Achievement alone is not a reliable indicator absent specific contributing technical factors; predicting program sustainability via technical indicators alone is equally unreliable absent achievement that demonstrates the efficacy of technical indicators. Combined, achievement and technical indicators can yield reliable and measurable conclusions for assessing and reasonably predicting reform sustainability. For the purposes of this project, the term Sustainability is defined as "the ability [of Monroe County] to maintain reform achievements and outcomes (technical indicators) and its benefits (constitutional care and custody, facility safety and security, and community safety) over time".

An evidence-based framework is overlaid onto assessment findings to determine the likelihood of reform plan sustainability.¹¹ This framework uses these eight (8) Sustainability Factors containing five (5) Key Sustainability Indicators to assess each factor:

Monroe County Criminal Justice & Jail Reform – Sustainability Planning Elements

Sustainability Factors	Key Indicators / Questions
Environmental Support	Do champions exist who strongly support reforms and evidence-based best practices? Do reform efforts have strong champions with the ability to garner needed resources? Do reform efforts have support from the larger organization? Do reform efforts have strong and consistent internal leadership support? Do reform efforts have strong public support / community support?
Adequate Funding Stability	Does reform and reform efforts exist in a supportive economic climate? Are there policies specifically implemented to help ensure sustained funding? Are necessary reform and reform activities funded from stable and reasonably predictable funding sources? Is reform funding flexible to meet needs as they change? Is reform funding sustainable overtime?
Partnerships	Are external and internal partners invested in reform plans, achievement and success? Are reform needs, challenges, and achievements effectively communicated with internal and external stakeholders? Are internal and external stakeholders committed to reform activities and desired outcomes? Are reform goals established in collaboration with internal and external partners/stakeholders? Are internal and external stakeholders actively engaged in reform implementation and desired results, per their respective roles and responsibilities?
Organizational Capacity	Are reforms well-integrated into the operations of the stakeholder organizations? Are organizational systems in place to support various structure, process, and results-oriented needs?

Does leadership effectively articulate the reform vision to internal and external partners / stakeholders?
Do leaders efficiently manage staff and other resource for reform achievement?
Are critical reform needs adequately staffed to achieve consistent results?

Program Evaluation Does the organization have the capacity and ability for quality reform evaluation?
Does the reform program report short term and intermediate outcomes?
Are evaluation results routinely used to inform reform program planning, implementation, and fine-tuning?
Are reform evaluation results used to demonstrate achievement of planned outcomes to funding bodies, partners / stakeholders.
Does strong evidence exist to report to partners / stakeholders that demonstrate reliable reform-outcomes efficacy?

Program Adaptation Does the organization / oversight group periodically review the reforms' evidence base?
Can reforms adapt to different / new strategies to gain / improve desired results?
Can reforms adapt to new internal and external evidence and best-practices relevant to program results?
Does organization proactively adapt reform practices according changes in the internal and external environments?
Does the organization critically self-assess and makes appropriate decisions regarding reform components, methods, and practices that are ineffective and should cease?

Communications Does the organization communicate reform plans and strategies to secure and maintain partner / stakeholder support?
Do reform staff effectively communicate the need for the program in a timely manner to partners and stakeholders?
Does the organization market proposed and implemented reforms to partners / stakeholders in a way that generates interest in its success?
Is internal and external organizational awareness systematically increased?
Can the organization effectively demonstrate value of reforms and outcomes to partners / stakeholders?

Strategic Planning Does the organization plan for program future resource needs?
Is there a long-term funding plan to maintain compliance achievements and outcomes?
Does the organization have a written compliance sustainability plan?
Do all partners / stakeholders clearly understand compliance program goals?
Does the organization / program clearly outline roles and responsibilities for all stakeholders and program members?

Reform sustainability is an ongoing process imbedded in to the proposed action planning process. The methodology used in this collaborative work intends to produced clear and convincing evidence to infer or conclude that reform action plans presented for approval lay a durable foundation for long term sustainable reform in the provision of effective and efficient criminal justice and correctional outcomes. The pinnacle achievement is sustainable provision of constitutional care and custody of the incarcerated and the efficient use of criminal justice resources.

Carol Ann Ray, QA/I RN has more than 37 years of experience in the healthcare field, including the areas of delivery of care, patient safety, quality and process improvement, mortality review, data aggregation and analysis, compliance review, and recruitment and training. As a health information specialist, Carol is a consultant that specializes in data investigation and compliance measures.

Carol received her Registered Nursing degree from the University Kentucky and Kentucky RN license in 1997 and is a board-certified Correctional Health Professional by the National Commission on Correctional Health Care. Prior to her RN work she worked as an LPN upon licensure in 1980. Throughout the years, her service in the medical community has provided a level of expertise that she now shares in her role as a nurse consultant.

Since 2010, in working for RJS Justice Services, Carol has collaborated on projects for a number of correctional facilities, reviewing policies and procedures and how these are applied in each particular jail medical setting to assist in achieving desired clinical outcomes. Often, reviews of medical documentation reveal areas where quality improvement processes would benefit the client. Typically, after careful evaluation through data investigation, chart and process review, recommendations are made to help improve clinical documentation and reporting. This can result in the recommendation and development of quality assurance measures to assist in maintaining best practice standards in the jail medical milieu. Additionally, Carol has contributed to mortality reviews and development and procurement of electronic health systems, in both correctional and hospital settings, per her nursing experience as within the scope of her practice.

Carol has extensive experience as a Quality Improvement Specialist. Since 2008, she has provided the data abstraction of core measures for CMS to her longstanding client, Highlands Regional Medical Center in Prestonsburg, Kentucky. Deliverables to this client also include H&P compliance reviews, mortality reviews, medication compliance reviews, quarterly data aggregation and reporting in compliance with Joint Commission and CMS guidelines. Additionally, Carol has worked with this client as a Health Information Management Specialist and project manager for a hospital-wide build and integration of a voice recognition system to assist medical transcribers and providers in documentation within the EMR. She was a member of the EMR selection team, as the hospital responded to the ACA mandate of electronic medical record implementation.

Wearing many hats in her years of service, Carol owned her own medical transcribing business, managed a Medical Practice, worked as a nurse in the fields of oncology (Bone Marrow Transplant and Hematology/Oncology), trauma, maternity, and home health. She worked for the University of Kentucky as an Employment Specialist, recruiting nurses and administrative personnel. Certified as a Master Trainer for Targeted Selection by DDI, Carol trained Department Directors in both medical and main campus sectors at the University of Kentucky, conducting workshops regarding employee selection, retention, and personnel evaluation. Her early and broad experience as an executive assistant helped facilitate the development of a thorough and detail-oriented work style, which brings an accurate and organized approach when working with and reviewing documents.
