Property Tax review Indiana Monroe County

Property Tax Review and History

Property taxes are an ad valorem tax, meaning that they are allocated to each taxpayer proportionately according to the value of the taxpayer's property.

The property tax process is also known as the property tax assessment and billing cycle. This cycle begins with the development of each property's assessed value by the county assessor. The assessor then transfers the data on each property's value to the county auditor. The auditor, after applying deductions, exemptions, and other valuation adjustments, sends these values (known as the certified net assessed values) to the Department of Local Government Finance.

With mass appraisal, your property is looked at in conjunction with other properties in your area. Assessors consider (1) age, (2) grade, and (3) condition.

Finally, in a process known as annual adjustment, or "trending", each year real property sales data is used to determine if the value of properties in your area should change to match the market value found in the sales of recent properties.

- Exemptions (<https://www.in.gov/dlgf/8818.htm>)
 - Exemptions involve a certain type of property, or the property of a certain kind of taxpayer, which is not taxable.
 - Application for exemption must be filed before April 1 of the assessment year with the county assessor.
- Deductions (<https://www.in.gov/dlgf/2344.htm>)
 - Deductions work by reducing the amount of assessed value a taxpayer pays on a given parcel of property.
 - Application for deductions must be completed and dated not later than December 31 annually.

The most widely used deduction is the homestead standard deduction, allowing homeowners to deduct the lesser of 60% of their property's gross assessed value or $48,000 under Indiana Code 6-1.1-12-37. This applies only to owner-occupied primary residences.

Additional relief comes through the supplemental homestead deduction, which, in 2024, reduces net assessed value by 35% for the first $600,000 and 25% for amounts exceeding that.

Seniors aged 65 and older with an income below $40,000 for individuals or $50,000 for married couples may qualify for an exemption if their home's assessed value does not exceed $240,000 under Indiana Code 6-1.1-12-9. There are other deductions of Veterans and disabled hoosiers.

Tax Bill – Gross Tax Liability

- A taxpayer's gross liability is a simple formula:

Net AV	Times	Taxing District Rate
--------	-------	----------------------

- The taxing district rate is comprised of the overlapping taxing unit rates, this formula can also be expressed as:

Net AV	Times	County Unit Rate
Net AV	Times	School Unit Rate
Net AV	Times	Township Unit Rate
Net AV	Times	City/Town Unit Rate
Net AV	Times	Library Unit Rate

* The tax rate is to be divided by 100

Determining the Taxing District Rate

1. Taxing Units & Districts:

- Taxing Units: These are government entities like townships, cities, towns, school corporations, libraries, and other special districts that levy property taxes to fund their services.
- Taxing Districts: These are specific geographic areas defined by the overlapping jurisdictions of different taxing units.

2. How Tax Rates Are Determined:

- Each taxing unit prepares a budget outlining its spending needs for the upcoming year.
- The Indiana Department of Local Government Finance (DLGF) reviews and approves these budgets.
- The county assessor determines the net assessed value of properties within each district.
- The DLGF calculates the tax rate for each taxing unit within a district based on their approved budget and the total net assessed value of properties within that unit's jurisdiction.
- The county auditor compiles the rates from all the overlapping taxing units to determine the total tax rate for each specific taxing district.

3. Variation in Tax Rates:

- Because different combinations of taxing units exist in different areas, the total property tax rate can vary significantly from one taxing district to another within the same county.

Circuit Breaker = Property TAX CAPS = credits

The General Assembly shall (Article 10 Indiana Constitution) limit a taxpayer's property tax liability.

The circuit breaker, or property tax caps, represent the maximum tax bill that an individual can pay.

The circuit breaker credit, an amount applied to a qualifying tax bill that prevents a taxpayer from exceeding the property tax cap.

Where exemptions and deductions reduce the taxable AV, tax bill credits reduces the Gross Tax Liability directly.

After calculating the Gross Tax Liability, there are three specific credits that are applied to the tax bill.

4A) Local Income Tax – Property Tax Relief Credit

4B) Circuit Breaker Credit

4C) Over 65 Circuit Breaker Credit

The amount of the credit (IC 6-1.1-20.6-7.5) is the amount by which the person's property tax liability attributable to the person's:

- (1) homestead exceeds one percent (1 %);
- (2) residential property exceeds two percent (2%);
- (3) long term care property exceeds two percent (2%);
- (4) agricultural land exceeds two percent (2%);
- (5) nonresidential real property exceeds three percent (3%);
- (6) personal property exceeds three percent (3%); of the gross assessed value of the property that is the basis for determination of property taxes for that calendar year.

Tax Bill 101 – CB Cap Calculation

	Homestead Property (1% Cap)	Agricultural Land (2%)	Non Residential Real Estate (3%)
Gross AV	100,000	100,000	100,000
Net AV	Not Needed for the Calculation	Not Needed for the Calculation	Not Needed for the Calculation
Tax Rate	Not Needed for the Calculation	Not Needed for the Calculation	Not Needed for the Calculation
Gross Liability	Not Needed for the Calculation	Not Needed for the Calculation	Not Needed for the Calculation
Property Tax Cap	$$1,000 = 100,000 * .01$	$$2,000 = 100,000 * .02$	$$3,000 = 100,000 * .03$

In order to calculate the property tax cap, the gross assessed value is multiplied by 1%, 2%, or 3% based on property type. The net AV, tax rate, and gross liability are not factored into the calculation of the cap, but they will factor into the calculation of the credit.

The total gross assessed value of all properties in Monroe County increased by approximately $1.6 billion in 2024, representing about a 10.5% rise.

Funding for the mega-jail

- The decision of current elected officials has been that the correct way to handle social problems, no access to health care and issues associated with poverty, is for the county borrow over $250 Million for a new JUSTICE Facility. To do so they require a funding stream and collateral.
 - To create the funding stream to pay the construction costs and financing fees, the county will dedicate all of Economic Development Local Income Tax (LIT) and Jail LIT revenue and Jail LIT to the project for the next 25 years. Perhaps increasing the LIT tax to its maximum in the next year. Thus extracting tens of millions of dollars from lower and middle class households.
 - To create the collateral basis, the Assessor has allegedly manipulated the Gross Assessed Value of Monroe County by changing the land type (AG land to residential parcels,) created home sites on vacant unplatted land and ignored a large percentage of market based sales disclosures. The Assessor also allegedly selectively modified the “grade” of structures, changed the designation of mobile homes to wood frame residences and generally cooked the books to create more tax liability for all home owners and a fictional basis for such a gigantic loan.
- At the expense of solving today's issues, they created large “rainy day” reservoirs of cash to lessen the financing costs by a few million.
